

Journal of Cultural Economics

<http://www.springer.com/economics/microeconomics/journal/10824>

Special Issue Call for Papers

ECONOMICS OF CULTURAL TOURISM: THEORY, PRACTICE, AND POLICY

Guest Editors

Douglas S. Noonan
Indiana University-Purdue University
Indianapolis

Ide Rizzo
University of Catania

Aims and Scope

The Journal of Cultural Economics will publish a special issue on cultural tourism. We seek high-quality, original manuscripts on the economics of cultural tourism, making contributions on topics such as heritage-based tourism, the roles of cultural clusters in tourism, the role of intangible culture (values, customs, etc.) in tourism, arts-related tourism, performing arts and festivals-related tourism, cultural tourism in development, cultural tourism policy analysis, measurement issues in cultural tourism and valuation of cultural tourism demand. Theoretical or empirical papers on these or related topics are welcome. The special issue will feature various methodological perspectives and geographic contexts.

#

#

Schedule

- Submission deadline: July 15, 2016
- Author notification – review comments: October 15, 2016
- Revised submissions: November 30, 2016
- Final decision: December 22, 2016
- Final manuscript due: January 15, 2017
- Tentative Publication: Spring 2017

Submission Information

Manuscripts should be submitted through the Journal's regular portal at <http://www.editorialmanager.com/jcec/> (select "Economics of Cultural Tourism: Theory, Practice, and Policy," Special Issue). Papers must adhere to a strict upper limit of 20 pages, in 12-point font, double-spaced, including tables and references. Papers will be subject to a double-blind refereeing process; personal identifying information should be removed from the manuscript.

Journal of Cultural Economics

Published in cooperation with The Association for Cultural Economics International

Editors: Cameron, S.; Graddy, K.

ISSN: 0885-2545 (print version)

ISSN: 1573-6997 (electronic version)

Journal no. 10824